

BauNut

The BauNut is welded or glued into the corners of the BauGrids. The automated BauCager then screws BauThreadbars through the BauNuts as the BauGrids are being held at the desired spacing in the BauCager. In this way, a BauCage can be quickly assembled without using BauTies or BauClips.

